It is an incredibly eerie and dramatic setting of oozing mud baths and billowing steam. In contrast, the draw of Maranatha Gardens is its serenity. The guide will describe some of the more exotic flora within this paradisaical prayer sanctuary.	Participants must be at least 2 years of age. Passengers should be aware that the road network to Soufriere features undulating, winding, and hilly terrain in certain areas, which may affect those prone to motion sickness. At each tour site, guests who prefer not to join the guided tour are welcome to remain on the bus. Participants should be aware that the tour involves significant walking distances (more than 15 minutes at a time), many steps, and standing for extended periods, which may be strenuous for individuals with walking disabilities. The pathway at the Sulphur Spring Park consists of uneven concrete and asphalt surfaces, including inclines. There are 30 steps to reach the preferred viewing and narration point. However, passengers can also enjoy views of the bubbling pools near the bus parking area. Santarem	Brazil	STR-001	Highlights	HIGHLIGHTS OF SANTARÉM	$139	3	MODERATE	Enjoy an orientation tour of the Amazonian city of Santarém, rich in history, legend, rubber and beaches. Settled some 450 years ago and positioned midway between the larger inland river port of Manaus and Belém at the Amazon's mouth, Santarém's docks have been bustling with river traffic for centuries. This river is the primary transportation route through the almost roadless Amazonian jungle; your drive along the waterfront will likely reveal a diverse mix of passenger and cargo vessels transporting people and products into and out of the region. Among the sights you'll visit in town are Santarém's powder blue Cathedral and the Town Hall Museum where priceless heritage pottery made by the Tupaiu Indians is on display. Further out of town in a nearby native village, visit the Casa da Farinha and see how milky white sap can be made to flow from indigenous rubber trees – a process that led to enormous wealth flowing into this region centuries back.	This tour includes a moderate amount of walking. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests, and those with mobility concerns are cautioned only to participate to the extent of their personal ability. Arrangements may be made with the guide to skip some of the walking portions of the tour such as the Casa visit. The tour sequence may vary and please note that in this developing destination, the best available coaches may be older and without air-conditioning. In the event the Town Hall museum is unavailable, a visit to the Sacred Art Museum will be substituted.

Santarem	Brazil	STR-003	Highlights	RIVER TOUR AND ECO MAICA LAKE	$169	3.5	EASY	Seize this rare opportunity to experience the intricate ecosystem of the Amazon and the famous "Meeting of the Waters" on board a special riverboat. The tributaries, lakes and forests along this section of the Amazon are home to numerous species of unique flora – and some toothy fauna as well. Your exploration begins with a leisurely hour-long cruise down two beautiful rivers, the clear green-blue Tapajós and the muddy-brown Amazon. These two separate water streams meet near Santarém, running side by side for a distance with their colour difference intact before eventually mixing together. Cruising over this curious natural phenomenon is a definite eco-treat, as is your visit to the tropical wonderland you'll encounter as you approach the entrance of Maica Lake. Anchoring here to observe the rustic native homes and primal rainforest that surround you, your guide will provide a special treat if river conditions permit. You'll be given fishing line and bait and taught how to fish for the voracious and fearsome piranha. Needless to say, swimming around here is not encouraged.	This tour includes limited walking, but guests must be able to enter and exit the riverboat with limited assistance. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests, and those with mobility concerns are cautioned to carefully evaluate their personal level of ability before participating. Although the boats have a PA system, the noise of the engine can make hearing the guide's narration difficult; opportunities will be available for direct dialogue with your guide.
Santarem	Brazil	STR-004	Active	TAPAJOS NATIONAL FOREST	$95	5.1	STRENUOUS	Trek through pristine Tapajós National Forest with a naturalist and get fascinating insights on the flora and wildlife indigenous to this part of the Amazon. About an hour in from the pier, driving south along the only road through this region, you'll arrive at Tapajós National Forest reserve. Federally protected from lumbering, this 1.5 million acre swath of the Amazon is quite unspoiled – and provides an ideal living laboratory for your hike through the understory with a naturalist. Hiking a path through dense vegetation, you'll come face to face with hard-to-encounter species like the towering Brazil nut tree, Bertholletia excelsa, which only bears fruit in undisturbed forests. This coffee table nut is so hard that only the chisel-toothed agouti is able to penetrate its shell in the wild. The rubber trees here are also notable; they were the source of tremendous wealth in the 19th century until some seeds were smuggled out and successfully propagated in Malaysia, bringing Brazil's monopoly on natural rubber production to an end. Flitting among the forest branches are some 300 species of birds known to thrive in this region, including the brilliantly coloured golden parakeet and giant harpy eagle.	This tour includes approximately 90 minutes of forest hiking with natural and uneven surfaces to negotiate. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests or those with mobility concerns. Participants should be in good physical condition and avid hikers or walkers.
Manaus (Amazon River)	Brazil	MAO-002	Active	MANAUS JUNGLE TREK	$189	4	STRENUOUS	Take a trip upriver for an immersive trail hike into the Amazonian rainforest, led by a seasoned expert in jungle survival. Your cruise up the Rio Negro to Guedes Lake is a scenic journey, but nothing compares to the sheer wonder of being on the ground under the primeval Amazon forest canopy. Your guide will meet you at the river landing and start things off with an intro briefing on what to expect along the trail. With vast experience in jungle survival and training from the Brazilian Army's Jungle Warfare Instruction centre (CIGS), they know their way around these woods. Following your briefing, you'll trek into this spectacular environment for a firsthand look at the rainforest's majesty. Several stops along the way provide opportunities for your guide to explain key survival techniques such as how to construct a shelter or find a climbing plant that contains drinkable water. Handy knowledge to have should you find yourself lost in the Amazon during some future vacation. At the end of the hike, retrace your river journey back to the floating pier in Manaus.	This is a strenuous tour with a substantial amount of walking through the jungle plus some 45 wooden steps to climb. Participants should be in good health and the tour is not available to wheelchair guests or those with mobility concerns.
Manaus (Amazon River)	Brazil	MAO-003	Highlights	MEETING OF THE WATERS CRUISE	$169	4.5	MODERATE	Cruise a lake where giant water lilies grow and visit the famous spot where two rivers of different colours flow side-by-side for several miles. Your watery journey of exploration begins with a scenic riverboat cruise on the Rio Negro toward where it becomes clustered with small islands. Switch here to motorised canoe to skim through these narrower channels within the rainforest. You'll get a much closer look at this fabled environment as you work your way to Lake January in search of giant water lilies if the river level allows. Named for Queen Victoria by an English naturalist, these Victoria Amazonica lilies' round, shelf-like "pads" can measure up to six feet across – creating giant floating stepping stones for a variety of water birds. Returning to the riverboat, cruise downstream to view the Meeting of the Waters – where the dark, clear waters of the Rio Negro and the muddy, yellow waters of the Solimões River flow in parallel for several miles without mixing. It's a natural phenomenon that has a simple scientific explanation but seems to defy all sense. The convergence of these two rivers forms the official starting point of the Amazon.	There is minimal walking on this tour, but guests must be able to enter and exit the riverboat by gangplank and the motorised canoes with limited assistance. If not able to board the motorised canoe, it may be necessary to remain behind on the main riverboat. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests and those with mobility concerns are cautioned to carefully evaluate their personal level of ability before participating. While likely, sighting of the water lilies is not guaranteed.
Manaus (Amazon River)	Brazil	MAO-004	Highlights	CAIMAN SPOTTING	$139	3	STRENUOUS	Venture into moonlit jungle backwaters with an expert guide, first by riverboat, then by motorised canoe, to observe the tropical caimans who dwell here. You'll depart from the Manaus floating pier, heading upstream toward the dense rainforest. At the point where the river breaks up into dozens of overgrown tributaries, cross a short gangplank and board a canoe optimised for navigating narrower terrain. Gliding along these flooded forest waterways, your jungle-savvy guide will attempt to locate caimans by "capturing" them with nothing more than a flashlight. Momentarily hypnotised by the bright light, their eyes shining back like rubies in the darkness, each scaly caiman can be slowly approached until your guide is close enough to lift his prey out of the water for all to see – and photograph. Afterwards, each young crocodilian is gently returned to the water, unfazed and no worse off for the experience. You, on the other hand, will be irreversibly thrilled by these brief close contacts with wild Amazonian nature. After this unique interlude of caiman-hunting, you'll retrace your path to the riverboat and back to the relative civilisation of Manaus.	Although very little walking is involved on this tour, guests must be able to get on to and off the riverboat by gangplank and board a motorised canoe. If not able to board the motorised canoe, it may be necessary to remain behind on the main riverboat.
Manaus (Amazon River)	Brazil	MAO-006	Highlights	RUBBER MUSEUM & INDIAN COMMUNITY	$139	5	STRENUOUS	Trace the history of the Brazilian rubber boom at a museum in the heart of the jungle, then attend a celebration at an indigenous river village. Since the terrain outside Manaus is roadless, your excursion vehicle is a regional speedboat – and its "road" is the inky Rio Negro river. Departing the pier, you'll spend the next 90 minutes cruising through spectacular Amazonian scenery to reach a museum devoted entirely to natural rubber, a jungle product that brought astounding wealth to Manaus in the late 19th century. The Rubber Museum faithfully depicts a period rubber plantation, from the opulent estate house to the rubber tappers' lowly shacks. You'll even follow a trail into the jungle to see how trees were tapped and how the collected latex was processed in a smokehouse. Living and working conditions were grueling, and the resulting fortunes amassed by the rubber barons were beyond modern imagination. The lifestyle you'll encounter when you cruise on to a typical Indian village along the Rio Negro proves a fascinating contrast. The tribe here is a mix of some five ethnicities, remnants of the ancient indigenous Amazonian culture. At the main hut, be treated to a traditional celebration ritual.	This tour includes approximately 90 minutes of moderate-to-strenuous walking and standing. The trail at the rubber museum involves uneven and natural surfaces. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests or those with mobility concerns.

Manaus (Amazon River)	Brazil	MAO-007	Highlights	PINK DOLPHIN ENCOUNTER	$239	5	MODERATE	Cruise the Rio Negro to a jungle village where you can swim in a lake with pink dolphins, a highly intelligent and naturally curious freshwater species. It's about an 80-minute cruise up the wide, slow-moving Rio Negro to your destination, through a wild landscape clad in rainforest and brimming with wildlife. Expect to see a wealth of tropical birds – including macaws, toucans and parakeets – and perhaps even spot sloths and howler monkeys active in the trees. Still, it's the pink dolphins, known locally as "botos," that most capture visitors' imaginations. You'll disembark at the river village of Acatuba, adjacent to a lake that pink dolphins are known to frequent. Use your free time here to interact with and even feed or swim with these dolphins, which are only distantly related to ocean dolphins but share their friendly demeanor, high intelligence and clicking language. These dolphins – whose natural colour varies with age and ranges from soft rose to almost shocking pink – also change colour when excited or alarmed, "blushing" almost like humans. Your time spent observing them, or better yet, interacting with them, is sure to be memorable. And a great story to share with friends back home.	This tour includes approximately one hour of easy-to-moderate walking and standing over mostly flat terrain, plus any additional walking done at guests' discretion during free time. Total travel time in the boat is just over 2-1/2 hours. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests and may not be suitable for those with mobility concerns who are cautioned to carefully evaluate their personal level of ability since participants must be agile enough to enter and exit the tour boat with limited assistance. Tourism infrastructure in Manaus is limited; please be patient with any language difficulties you may encounter with your guide. Please also eat a hearty breakfast or bring an energy/granola bar along, as this tour includes no meal. Those who participate in water activities do so at their own risk and responsibility.
Manaus (Amazon River)	Brazil	MAO-009	Highlights	THE BEST OF MANAUS	$299	6	MODERATE	Leave from the floating port of Manaus, designed to move with the river tide of the Rio Negro. On your way to the Palácio Rio Negro, you will pass the Customs House—prefabricated in Liverpool and shipped to Manaus a hundred years ago. Stop to visit the former palace that latter was the private residence of a German rubber baron and eventually became the Governor's office. Your drive proceed to the city's most famous landmark. The lavish pink-and-white Opera House, known as the Teatro Amazonas, is the highlight of your tour. Built in 1896, this marvel of architecture features a dome of 36,000 vitrified ceramic tiles imported from Europe, set in a mosaic of the colours of the Brazilian flag. The amazing painting that grace the inside of the dome is a recreation of the view you would have if you stood under the Eiffel Tower and looked up. The dazzling auditorium boasts perfect acoustics, and performances here range from single guitar concerts to entire ballet companies and philharmonic orchestras. As stunning as the building is, perhaps its most extraordinary element is the fact that it is located in the heart of the Amazon jungle, in the city of Manaus—a testament to the affluence that accompanied the rubber boom of 1896. After the visit, take your time for pictures of the São Sebastião square and its renewed houses. Next, return to your vehicle for a drive to the Gauchos restaurant for your luncheon time - Enjoy the authentic Brazilian barbecue. Following lunch, your tour through the city will take you to the Museu do Índio. The "Indian Museum" houses an exhibit of artifacts, costumes, and weapons of the region's principal Indian tribes. Afterward, you will return to the port, passing by the Adolfo Lisboa Market for a short stop to learn about the market and its history.	This tour includes approximately-2 1/2 hours of moderate walking and standing, with some uneven surfaces and steps involved. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests and those with mobility concerns are cautioned to carefully evaluate their personal level of stamina before participating. Tourism infrastructure in Manaus is limited; please be patient with any language difficulties you may encounter with your guide. The visit to the Opera House may be shortened, since there are restrictions imposed by the management, basically during the rehearsal days. Please be advised that on Tuesdays, the visit to the Rio Negro Palace will be limited to the exterior areas only. Additionally, the Indian Museum is closed on Saturday afternoons and all day on Sundays.
Manaus (Amazon River)	Brazil	MAO-010	Highlights	THE GOLDEN ERA OF MANAUS	$139	3.5	MODERATE	Visit landmarks built during the Golden Era of Manaus around the late 19th century, when the demand for rubber soared and the city became fabulously wealthy. Highlights include the Palácio Rio Negro, a sumptuous residence for the city's leading rubber baron, and Manaus' grand opera house, the Teatro Amazonas. The theatre's wrought iron skeleton was brought from Scotland and the stone from Italy. Although built a few years before the rubber boom, the Municipal Market also features wrought iron imported from Europe. While meandering about the stalls, you will get a good sense of daily life in Manaus as the locals shop for essentials. Saint Sebastian Square is revealing in a different way as it boasts a mosaic pavement with waves that symbolise the confluence of the Negro and Solimões rivers. You will come away with an even deeper understanding of Manaus after browsing the City Museum, whose exhibits tell the engaging story of its history.	Please be advised that the visit to the Opera House may be shortened due to restrictions imposed by the management, particularly on rehearsal days. Additionally, the Rio Negro Palace is closed on Tuesdays. This tour is not wheelchair accessible.
